AMERICANS' BLOODY VICTORY.

SUSTAIN HEAVIEST LOSS OF LIFE YET

Our Men Were Quartered in a Convent, Which Was Fired by Burning Hemp—Survivors Held Out Two Days.

Washington, May 16—The officials of the war department after waiting for nearly a week to hear something from General MacArthur at Manila, confirmatory of the press report of the bloody three days' engagement at Catubig, which resulted in the heaviest loss of life the American army has sustained in any one engagement in the Philippines, yesterday cabled General MacArthur a request for information. The answer was received today concerning the press reports and adding some interesting details. General MacArthur transmitted a report from Henry T. Allen, a major of the Forty-third volunteers, who commanded the United States forces on the Island of Samar. It appears that the force was divided among several ports of Samar, and while details are still lacking, it is believed that this particular force was beseiged at Catubig and was commanded, not by a commissioned officer, but by a sergeant, either George or Hall, both of whom were killed. Catubig, where the engagement occurred, is a seaport town of nearly ten thousand inhabitants. General MacArthur's cablegram is as follows:

"Manila, May 16—With reference to your telegram of 14th. The rumored engagement in Samar reported in the cablegram of General Otis, May 4th, has been confirmed by reports recently received from Henry T. Allen, Forty-third regiment, U. S. V I., commanding Samar island. That detachment of thirty-one men, stationed at Catubig, were attacked April 15th by 600 men with 200 rifles and one cannon. Our men were quartered in a convent, which was set on fire next day by burning hemp thrown from an adjoining church. The detachment attempted to escape by the river. Men getting into the boat were killed; the remaining men entrenched themselves near the river and held out two days longer, facing most adverse circumstances until rescued by Lieutenant Sweeney and ten men. Over two hundred of the attacking party, many of them having come from Luzon Island, are reported killed and many wounded. Lieutenant Sweeny reports streets covered with dead insurgents.

(Signed) "MACARTHUR."

OVERTURES MADE PROF. JOYNER.

A Denominational College in Another State Wants His Services.

The ability of the faculty of the State Normal and Industrial College is recognized wherever the institution is known. Just now the names of three members are mentioned in connection with the presidency of the University of North Carolina, a distinction enjoyed by no other institution. In addition to this, overtures have been made Prof. J. Y. Joyner with a view to securing his services for a prominent educational institution in another state, one of the most important denominational colleges in the South.

The position carries with it much responsibility and pays a larger salary than the place now filled by Prof. Joyner.

Suffering for Rain.

The dry weather is a matter of considerable concern to farmers, who say that, unless it rains soon, crops will be cut short. Already wheat and spring oats have been damaged, while strawberries and vegetables are suffering for rain.

The crop of winter oats will be particularly short, most of them being frozen during the past winter.

Public Speaking.

Hon. B. R. Lacy will speak in the Court house Saturday May 19th at 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Lacy is a laboring man, having for many years been a railroad engineer, and is an excellent speaker. Let every workingman hear him on the amendment.

ALMOST A RIOT AT FOUR OAKS.

A Drunken Negro Precipitates Trouble. Murder Narrowly Averted.

Special to the News and Observer.

Smithfield, N. C., May 16.—Last Saturday about eighteen drunken negro railroad hands and timber cutters went to the town of Four Oaks, threatening to kill every white man in the town. All were armed with pistols or railroad spikes. The crowd commenced to curse and raise a disturbance.

The town policeman, W. D. Sandlin, attempted to arrest one of the negroes for disorderly conduct, whereupon the crowd assaulted Sandlin and beat him until he was almost insensible. His face was badly disfigured and he was bloody almost from head to foot. A number of white men at this point attempted to come to the aid of the policeman, but were immediately knocked down with spikes or shot at with pistols. At one time a terrible riot was imminent. Much mischief would have been done by the negroes, all of whom were drunk, but for the prompt and determined action of the white merchants and railroad employes of the town.

Several negroes were wounded, but not fatally. Several white men were painfully injured.

The gang has sent word that they intend to visit the town again and kill the policeman. The whites will be ready when they come again.

The action of the negroes was totally without excuse or provocation and was a complete surprise to the white people of the town.

At least fifteen or twenty people on the two sides were injured.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY.

Dr. McIver's Superior Fitness for the Position Recognized.

In speaking of the needed requirements of the successor to Dr. Edwin A. Alderman as President of the University of North Carolina, the Asheville Citizen pays Dr. Charles D. McIver a a nice compliment and says:

"The University needs a man of marked ability at its head far more than it needs a man with teaching ability. It needs a man of known executive ability. The position of president of the University is not one in which to try experiments, not one to be filled with a 'perhaps' in the hope that success will follow.

"It is from the ranks of the teaching profession that the new president should be chosen. Executive ability in other walks of life will demand a far larger salary than is paid to the president of the University of North Carolina. The Citizen believes that among North Carolina teachers Dr. McIver is the best man for the place."

Youth Kills a Widow.

Sparta, Wis., Dispatch.

About 1 o'clock this morning Elmore Benjamin, aged 20, shot and killed Mrs. Emma Priest, aged 38, a widow.

Young Benjamin accused Mrs. Priest of alienating the affections of his father from his family, consisting of a wife, two daughters and himself. The tradgedy took place near the Benjamin home. The meeting was probably accidental. Young Benjamin was on his way home from a near-by restaurant. He fired two shots; the first shot went wide of the mark, but the second took effect, and she fell dead on the sidewalk. Young Benjamin then returned to the restaurant, and telling the proprietor of what he had done, gave himself up to the autorities. Mrs. Priest leaves a fifteen-year-old daughter.

WORK OF A MAD SEAMAN.

TURNS THE DECK INTO SHAMBLES.

Kills the Captain, Five Passengers, and Wounds Six of the Crew--After Driving All Below He Lowered a Boat and Rowed Away.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London, May 17.—A dispatch from Stockholm brings news of an awful tragedy on board the British steamer Prince Charles. A madman took possession of the steamer, shot five passengers dead, killed the captain, and wounded six of the crew who tried to overcome him. The passengers and crew finally left the deck to the maniac, who lowered a boat and rowed away. All then came back on deck and ministered to the wounded. The steamer put into Stockholm with her decks looking like shambles.

YOUNG WOMAN MURDERED.

While at Her Work in a Store Mary Brannigan Was Shot Down by Edward Hall.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, May 17—This morning Mary Brannigan, while at work in Reinhardt's store, was shot twice and killed by Edward Hall, 25 years of age. The shooting caused the greatest excitement in the crowded store. Miss Brannigan, who is 24 years old, had no idea that Hall intended to kill her till he drew his pistol. As he drew the pistol the girl pleaded for mercy, but unavailingly. Desparate efforts were made to disarm Hall before the shooting. He was arrested.

PROF. CROWELL GONE TO ASHEVILLE

Entertainment at Archdale---Local and Personal.

Correspondence of the Telegram.

High Point, May 17.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will serve ice cream and cake tonight on the vacant lot opposite Dr. D. A. Stanton's residence.

Prof. Crowell went to Asheville this morning to deliver an address. Virgil Idol also left on the same train for Asheville to attend the Epworth League convention.

W. M. Adams and Geo. Kirkman represented Greensboro here yesterday.

H. L. Adams, of Charlotte, was a visitor here yesterday.

Miss Annye Tomlinson entertained a few friends at her home at Archdale last night, complimentary to her guest, Miss Josie Griffin, of Woodlin. Several parties from here were in attendance.

Maurice Teague, a former resident of this place, has leased the Burns Hotel, at Asheboro.

Messrs. Wm. and Clifton Ring received word yesterday that their mother at Winston, who has been sick for several days but who was thought to be getting better, was worse.

L. L. Lucke leaves tonight for Richmond to take in the carnival.

Mr. W. P. Rickett and Mrs. J. J. Welch left last night for Atlantic City, N. J., to attend a conference of the M.P. church.

Mr. J. H. Montgomery has the contract to erect the new M. E. Church at Naomi.

Conference on the Water Works Matter.

The special committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen to investigate and report on the waterworks matter had a conference last night with representatives of the Greensboro Water Supply Company. The committee had made a thorough investigation and submitted a proposition looking to the purchase of the plant.

The company will be given time to consider the proposition, and when a decision is arrived at the Board of Aldermen will be called together to take action on the matter.

Summerfield Gun Club.

Articles of incorporation for the Summerfield Gun Club have been filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court for this county. The incorporators are composed of Northern sportsmen who have recently leased a number of acres of land in the vicinity of Summerfield.

A lodge will be built and everything put in good order by the next hunting season.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

What Might Have Been a Dangerous Conflagration.

Just before 7 o'clock yesterday evening fire was discovered in a room over Cartland's tailoring establishment, on North Elm, and for awhile it looked as if there might be a dangerous conflagration. The fire department was quickly on the scene, and by hard and judicious work, extinguished the blaze before any considerable damage resulted.

A great deal of smoke poured out of the building, making it difficult to get at the exact location of the fire. Holes were cut through the roof and three streams of water turned on the blaze. The fire was confined to the room in which it was discovered and was soon under control.

The room was occupied by one of Mrs. W. C. Wood's boarders, and the fire is thought to have originated from a lighted cigarette thrown among a lot of old papers on the floor. One wall, the overhead ceiling and a portion of the roof were burned, as were the room furnishings.

The damage to the building, which is the property of Mrs. H. E. Tate, is slight, being covered by insurance carried in the Southern Stock Mutual, the Underwriters of Greensboro, and the Globe and Rudgers of New York. Some slight damage resulted from water.

Mr. Cartland's goods were removed, or they would have been badly damaged by the water which poured into his store in large quantities. The goods and a part of the fixtures were stored in the Telegram office until his store could be dried out.

Mr. John B. Wright occupies the store next to Cartland's, but he was not damaged.

BOERS HOLDING BACK BIG NEWS

GOVERNMENT ACTIVE BUT SILENT

The Boers Fought the British Relief Column Tuesday—Roberts Passive—Greatest Anxiety all Over the United Kingdom.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London, May 17—Roberts cables that the Boers have retreated before Hunter to Kierksdorp, seven miles north of the Vaal and 118 miles by rail from Johannesburg.

The greatest anxiety regarding Mafeking exists all over the United Kingdom. The war office is crowded with people impatiently awaiting news. A dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez dated yesterday says the town is reduced to desparate straights. The number of beselgers has greatly increased and more big guns have been brought to bear. It is stated that the force coming to the relief is composed of picked men.

London, May 17, 3:30 p. m.—The British relief column fought the Boers at Craapan, 32 miles south of Mafeking, on Tuesday, according to a telegram received Wednesday night at Lorenzo Marques, from Molopo, 100 miles north of Mafeking. This intelligence is accepted here with some reserve because it is difficult to understand how the news could have been so quickly put on the wire from a place 132 miles from the scene of the engagement. A correspondent of The Morning Post, presumably John Stewart, is reported captured by the Boers at Kraapan. The British public is keenly expectant of the announcement that Mafeking has been relieved. Douglas Story, The Daily Mail correspondent at Pretoria, wires:

"The Boer government is holding back some big news. Feverish activity prevails here. President Kruger is working day and night. The latest Boer official bulletin is that the relief column has been defeated with great loss. Lord Roberts continues passive at Kroenstad. His cavalry is stretching like a semi-circular screen many miles in length, with overlaping flanks."

CONGRESS SHOULD INVESTIGATE.

Mr. Bacon, of Georgia Calls Up His Resolution, and Wants to Know How Long Before the Island Will be Turned Over to Cubans.

Washington, May 16—Discussion of the administration of affairs in Cuba by agents of the United States occupied the attention of the senate during the greater part of today's session. Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, called up his resolution directing the committee on relations with Cuba to make an investigation of the conduct of the financial affairs of the island, and addressed the senate upon it. He maintained that it was the duty of congress to make the investigation called for by the resolution, because it was due the people of this country to know just how affairs in the island were being conducted; and since the disclosures of the past few days had been made with respect to the alleged misappropriation of funds in the postal service, the obligation upon congress to make an investigation was doubly heavy. He reviewed the situation as recently presented in newspaper and other reports from the island, and urged that the honor of the country depended upon its being able to clear away the fraud and corruption which it was charged had been discovered. He maintained the government of the United States had no authority in Cuba, and demanded to know how soon it proposed to redeem its pledge and leave the government of the island to its inhabitants. A house bill repealing the provision of law allowing merchandise passing through the United States from any foreign country to be transported free of duty, so far as the Mexican free zone is concerned, was passed. A resolution offered by Mr. Lodge calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information in regard to the influx of Japanese laborers into the country, and whether there has been any violation of the contract labor law was adopted.

The boiler of a torpedo boat at St. Petersburg exploded this morning and killed six persons.

THE PROXIMITY SHUTDOWN.

SAYS THAT MR. CONE WAS JUSTIFIED

Did it in Order to Avoid the Great Struggle of a Strike--Mr. Cone as a Benefactor.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

As there has been a great deal said in regard to the situation at the Proximity Manufacturing Company's Mills, if you will give me space in your columns I will give your readers a few items that I have gathered on the wing. It seems that several days ago some three or four hundred operatives working in this mill formed themselves into what is called a labor union, and had made good headway before Mr. Cone was apprised of the movement, and when he fully realized the fact of its existence on Monday morning, May 7th, he closed down his mill and kept it closed for one week. Mr. Cone thought it advisable to take this step in order to avoid any further trouble with his employees in the way of a strike, as it seemed eminent, and would in all probability have materialized in a very short time.

In justiice to Mr. Cone allow us to say that in our judgment he ated wisely in the matter and prevented a more disastrous state of affairs if it had not been nipped in the bud in its infancy.

In the first place we think his employees acted indiscretely in the matter, knowing that Mr. Cone's sentiments were antagonistic to this movement. We feel fully assured that if his employees had grievances to be adjusted and had laid them before Mr. Cone, he would have given the matter deep consideration and acceeded to their demands, as Mr. Cone is known to be a very generous man to the poor and unfortunate, and he never turns a deaf ear to those in distress. This has been fully demonstrated in many acts of liberality to his employees ever since his mills have been in operation. We venture the assertion that no man in the State engaged in the manufacturing business has ever been so thoughtful as to give his employees every Christmas a gift in money ranging from fifty cents to ten dollars in gold. We learn from undoubted authority in our visits to many families in the village that this is true of Mr. Cone. We find it universal among all classes to speak in the highest terms of Mr. Cone as a great benefactor to all that are under his charge, and speaking of him preeminently as the greatest benefactor that the city of Greensboro has ever had. In turning in any direction it demonstrates the fact that many improvements would have never been made if Mr. Cone had not lent his aid to the movement. Look at Summit Avenue, one of the finest drives in the State. Is this all? Look at the magnificent structures erected on both sides of this beautiful avenue. Look again at the beautiful shade trees he had set out at his own expense. This great improvement still goes on. The county is at this time macadamizing and extending the avenue two or three miles further out. The county is not alone in this great improvement, Mr. Cone is an important factor. He is at a great expense furnishing the stone from his own land and having it crushed to macadamize this road with.

Many more things we could say in favor of Mr. Cone as a great benefactor to the city of Greensboro and the community at large, but we think we have said enough to convince the citizens of Greensboro that if we had a few more men like the Cones to come down South and settle in our progressive city with the same progressive spirit for the upbuilding of Greensboro, we would in a few short years be able to pull off our hats and say, hurrah for the second, if not the first, Atlanta of the South.

PROGRESS.

They Were Safe.

A punctilious southern lady was married to a happy go lucky Carolinian with a notorious disregard for all matters of dress. He was going off on a trip, and his wife packed in his satchel six shirts, exacting a promise that he would wear a fresh one every day. He returned home in due course, and the good housewife proceeded to unpack the bag. Lo, not one of the shirts was there!

"What's the matter, John?" she asked in great perturbation. "Where are all the shirts I gave you?"

John protested that he had followed orders and put on a clean one every day, but what happened to them he did not know. He retired down stairs to think out the problem. Ten minutes later an excited face was thrust into the room, and a happy voice rang out: "I've found 'em, my dear; I've found 'em! The whole six shirts are safe! I've got 'em all on!"—Kansas City Independent.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

CREED CRACKERS.

The Nazarene Wasted No Time Explaining Creeds, But Went to Work.

Charity and Children.

There is a mighty commotion in the religious world over the interpretation of creeds and confessions. A vast amount of energy will be expended and a great deal of space in the newspapers will be given to discussions that will not bring a ray of light to a human soul. Meanwhile the devil will stalk abroad and ply his skill, while the churches and the learned doctors of the law are wrangling over a sentence or two written by men who had less light than we, and who were just as frail and weak and human! There was a time in the history of the world a long time ago when the men of learning and influence were splitting hairs over the matters of the law, and One stepped out before the world with a startling message—a message to publicans and sinners. The old doctors looked askance at this untitled youth and went on with their ponderous discussions.

The Nazarene wasted no time in expounding intricate doctrines, but he healed the sick, opened the eyes of the blind, raised the dead and preached the gospel to the poor. The church that will keep busy in behalf of the suffering and sinful will not be disturbed by the knotty problems the big men are trying to crack, but will find itself growing in joy, and grace and strength. The man with grace in his heart and the Bible in his hand is thoroughly furnished for every good word and work. Let the creed crackers and the creed defenders proceed. We are to be soul-winners, not creed-breakers. It is a pity that the tradition of the elders, is absorbing so much time and talent. The Word of God is luminous enough if only we will let it shine on our pathway.

Owing to the fact that the charges against Neely in Wood's requisition papers are under the Spanish law, there is some doubt as to whether Governor Roosevelt is legally authorized to honor them.

Compliment With a Sting.

Talk about delightfully put compliments! I heard a girl at supper deliver herself of a perfect jewel the other night. She leaned across the table—the table next to me—to say it, and she meant well.

"Oh, Miss Dumdum," she said cordially, "I've got a trade at last for you!"

"A swap?" asked Miss Dumdum, beaming with anticipatory delight.

"Uhhuh!" answered the other. "Lieutenant Bulbul said it."

"Oh, do tell it!" pleaded Miss Dumdum eagerly.

"It was an awfully nice one," said the first girl, "and Lieutenant Bulbul meant it too. He said you waltzed divinely. He said he was awfully surprised, too, to find it out, so I know he meant it. He said he wouldn't have thought from seeing you walk that you could dance at all."—Washington Post.

Beecher's Hard Luck.

One day in a town where he was to lecture Mr. Beecher went into a barber shop to be shaved. The barber, not knowing him, asked him whether he was going to hear Beecher lecture.

"I guess so," was the reply.

"Well," continued the barber, "if you haven't got a ticket you can't get one. They're all sold, and you'll have to stand."

"That's just my luck," said Mr. Beecher. "I always did have to stand when I've heard that man talk."—Ladies' Home Journal.

His Choice of a Word.

"You look robust," remarked the lady of the house. "Are you equal to the task of sawing wood?"

"Equal isn't the word, madam," replied the pilgrim as he resumed his journey. "I'm superior to it."—Philadelphia Record.

Cautious Man.

"Are you married?" he asked of the man who sat next to him on the suburban train.

"What's that to you?" was the ungracious retort.

"Oh, no offense meant; no offense at all. I'm a bachelor myself, but I've just been visiting a married sister, and I feel the need of expressing my views on children to some one. If you're married, though, possibly it wouldn't be wise."—Chicago Post.

Disabled by Distraction.

"Is your husband a good whist player, Mrs. Chatter?"

"No; he can't play at all if anybody at the table talks."—Indianapolis Journal.

The famous clock in the Palais de Justice in Paris dates from 1370 and is the work of the celebrated De Vick, whose turret clocks are the earliest on reliable record.

HE WON THE CASE.

A Story of Lincoln's Wonderful Mental and Physical Ability.

Professor Stevens was once working up a mining case for the government in a western state where Mr. Lincoln was practicing law. Mr. Lincoln at the time was comparatively unknown in law and politics. When the professor engaged his room in the crowded country hotel, he found that a Mr. Lincoln was to occupy one bed in the room, as there was no other place where he could be accommodated. After arranging his books the professor settled down in an easy chair to prepare his brief.

Mr. Lincoln soon came in and made himself known. He said he also had to spend the evening making up an argument upon a mining case, and he knew less about mines than about anything else. In an hour the professor finished his work and retired, but before he did so he granted his roommate the privilege of using all his books, maps and papers upon mines and mining. Then he went to sleep, and when he awoke at 7 the next morning he found Mr. Lincoln just where he had left him poring over his books and papers. The lamp was still burning, although it was daylight.

As Professor Stevens' case did not come up the next day he attended the court to hear Mr. Lincoln present his arguments. He reached the scene in time for the opening speech by his roommate, and he staid all through the session.

Although Mr. Lincoln spoke for over an hour on the technicalities of mines and mining, he did not make a single mistake. He cross examined some half dozen surveyors and engineers and in every case puzzled and embarrassed them with his knowledge of the subject. Of course he won the case. But Professor Stevens said that everybody in the court believed he had been graduated in mining engineering and had devoted years to the study of the science.—Saturday Evening Post.

When the Moment to Strike Had Come, He Did Not Hesitate.

Badajos lies in Spain five miles from the Portuguese frontier. It was the key of a situation. Wellington's chance was to strike at Badajos before the French marshals could combine and crush him. His task was both in front of him and behind him. He lacked transport; he lacked food for the men; the soldiers were eating cassava root instead of bread; the bullocks were weak and emaciated. All this was the doing of the parliament at home.

But Wellington knew that the moment to strike had come, and he seems to have hesitated very little. Placing no faith in the tongues of the Portuguese, he made his plans with all possible secrecy. The guns for the siege were loaded on board the transport at Lisbon and consigned to a fictitious address. But in the river Sadhao they were placed upon smaller vessels, and finally they were again landed and drawn by bullocks to Eloas, a post in the possession of the allies. Having stationed two-thirds of his force under General Graham and General Hill to prevent a most probable interference by Soult and Marmont, Wellington advanced, reaching Eloas on the 11th of March, 1812. He had made the most incredible exertions.

The stupidity of the Portuguese had vied with the stupidity of the government at home. Wellington had been carrying the preparation for the campaign upon his own shoulders. If he was to win Badajos, he was to win it with no help save that from gallant and trustworthy subordinates. He was ill withal. Even his strangely steel-like nature had bent beneath the trouble of preparation amid such indifference. But on March 16 Beresford, with three divisions, crossed the Guardiana on pontoons and flying bridges, drove the enemy's outposts and invested Badajos.—Stephen Crane in New Lippincott's.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRAH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air, blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Sores and Ulcers DRAIN THE SYSTEM, ENDANGER LIFE.

That old sore or ulcer, which has been a source of pain, worry and anxiety to you for five or ten years—maybe longer—doesn't heal because you are not using the proper treatment, but are trying to cure it with salves and washes. While these are soothing and relieve pain to some extent, no real, permanent good can come from their use, because the disease is in the blood and far beyond the reach of external applications.

A sore heals promptly when the blood is in good condition, but never if it is diseased. The tendency of these old sores and ulcers is to grow worse, spreading and eating deeper into the flesh. They are a constant drain upon the system, gradually but surely ruin the health and sap the very life. A person's capacity for work or pleasure is soon lost in the great desire and search for something to cure.

S. S. S. makes a rapid and permanent cure of old sores and ulcers, and is the only medicine that does, because no other can reach deep-seated blood troubles. Ordinary Sarsaparilla and potash mixtures are too weak and watery to overcome a deadly poison that has taken possession of the blood. Do not waste valuable time experimenting with them.

A Gunshot Wound. "Some years ago I was shot in the left leg, receiving what I considered only a slight wound. It developed into a running sore and gave me a great deal of pain. I was treated by many doctors, and took a number of blood remedies, but none did me any good. I had heard S. S. S. highly recommended and concluded to give it a trial. The result was truly gratifying. S. S. S. seemed to get right at the trouble, and forced the poison out of my blood; soon afterwards the sore healed up and was cured sound and well. I now have perfect use of the leg, which was swollen and very stiff for a long time. J. H. McBRAYER, Lawrenceburg, Ky."

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known; is made of roots and herbs of wonderful purifying properties, which no poison can resist. S. S. S. quickly and effectually clears the blood of all morbid, unhealthy humors, and the old, troublesome sore heals. At the same time the general health is invigorated and built up. When a little scratch or hurt fails to heal readily, you may be sure your blood is bad. S. S. S. will soon put it in order and keep it so.

Our Medical Department is in charge of experienced physicians, who have made blood diseases a life study. If you will write them about your case, they will gladly furnish all information or advice wanted, without any charge whatever.

THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1900.

A BAD PIECE OF BUSINESS.

We remarked yesterday that a body never knows what the other fellow has up his sleeve, citing Senator Clark's move in the matter of retaining his seat. It was a very shrewd but a very nasty piece of business. The Senate committee on privileges and elections had decided that Mr. Clark was not entitled to the seat which he occupied, because he won it by bribery, either directly or indirectly. The Senate was just about to consider the committee report, with the chances that Mr. Clark, of Montana, would have been denied his seat.

Then Mr. Clark dropped the trump from his sleeve. The Governor of Montana, who is an anti-Clark man, was away from his State, and the Lieutenant Governor was acting in his place. This man belongs to the Clark faction. Before the Senate had the time to unseat Mr. Clark he passed in his resignation to the acting Governor, who accepted it and immediately appointed Clark to fill the vacancy made by his own resignation, till the next session of the legislature. Whether the trick will serve Clark or not is hard to tell. It rather emphasises his unfitness for the high position. It was a very mean trick, especially mean to the Govnrnor of Montana. This officer is pretty indignant, and who can blame him for saying:

It is an insult to the Senate to send Clark back to that body. It is a disgrace, shame and humiliation upon the people of Montana, and the Senate should act upon the resolutions and show him that they do not want him there, as he can take the hint no other way.

The Chicago Tribune this morning prints a Butte dispatch stating that Governor Smith, of Montana was called away by an agent of Clark, who employed him in a law suit, and that Lieutenant Governor Springs also fooled him. If this is true Clark is meaner than most men supposed.

IS TO BE PITIED.

Last Monday evening a street car in Augusta was filled with white people quietly going about their own business. Two negroes came in, and, failing to find seats, one of them deliberately sat down on the lap of a young white man. Of course the insult was resented, whereupon the negro drew a pistol and shot the young man dead. The murderer was that night lynched, but that brought back no life for his victim. What shall be done to protect the lives of people from such reckless brutes?

A few days ago a crowd of drunken negroes, with rebellion and murder in their hearts, went to the little town of Four Oaks for the purpose of creating a disturbance and committing murder if they cared to. Only prompt and vigorous action frustrated their designs. These are only two cases from a number in which negroes have been lately giving trouble.

We have seen no statement of how either of these cases was received by the negroes at large, but the race is usually ready almost en masse to uphold any kind of misdeeds committed against white people. This is deplorable but true. It is this readiness to uphold wrong in one of their number that causes the race much hardship. And this brings out the thought that, after all, the poor darkey has a pretty rough time. He has been the object of all sorts of adversity and it's little wonder that he is what he is. He is the child of prejudice and ignorance, credulity and weakness, and while his crimes cannot and should not be condoned, he is, all the same, to be pitied.

THE SCANDAL GROWING.

The Cuban postoffice rottenness continues to turn out uglier and uglier. In an attempt yesterday to get the Senate to take up the matter, Mr. Bacon said:

Still further, within the past week, the fact has been disclosed—a fact that brings the blush of shame to the cheek of every American citizen—that trusted officials in Cuba have misappropriated large amounts belonging to the people of Cuba. Nobody knows how large these amounts are. At first it was stated they were $30,000; next it was said they would amount to $75,000, and now it is intimated the amounts may aggregate $400,000. At first one man only was involved in the difficulty. Now there are many—so many that it is intimated it may amount to a conspiracy.

Yesterday E. P. Thompson, the Havana postmaster; W. H. Reeves, deputy auditor of the island, and Edward Moya and George Moscow, clerks, were arrested in Havana. This does not take into account Neely, who is under arrest in the United States, and E. G. Rathbone, the suspended director of posts. All the birds seem ready to tell what Neely did. But this will not cause the administration to make a scape goat of him; there ought not to be any scape goat. This is a most serious and disastrous affair, at a time of crisis in the island. It is humiliating to think that just at the time when things began to run smoothly, it should turn out that men in high official position should actually be using the public funds for wearing apparel and in extravagant living and in business enterprises.

"Trekking north" is now the Boers' most popular occupation.

The Observer felicitates itself upon the fact that it has evidently gotten under the hide of the Hon. Richmond Pearson.—Charlotte Observer.

The Observer felicitates itself not in vain; it is just felicitation, not unbecoming extreme modesty. It not only got under the Duke's hide, but it walked around under there.

Well wishers of Mr. Bryan may now feel safe. Chairman Butler has said that his convention's action was the necessary thing to insure Mr. Bryan's election. He also said that both Mr. Bryan and Mr. Towne had expressed a preference not to have the second place on the Populist ticket filled. Now we cannot really see what business these gentlemen had in expressing any preferences in the matter. Mr. Towne is a silver Republican and Mr. Bryan is a silver Democrat, and Mr. Butler is some unknown kind of a Populist, and so we do not see why these two should be telling Mr. Butler's convention what it ought to do.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Her Pet Superstition.

It is inconvenient at times, to say the least, to be the superstitious woman. No matter how hurried she may be, she feels obliged to take time to dispel the hoodoo. And, as if there were not enough signs and superstitions already well known to keep the ordinary person busy, those who traveled down town on the west side elevated train the other morning learned of another. Somewhere up town a woman came into the car and walked its full length before she found a vacant seat. At Twenty-third street she absentmindedly fell in line with the other shoppers and started toward the door. She was almost out when the thought of what she was doing flashed into her mind. The idle passengers, ready to be interested in anything, were surprised to see her right about face and start toward the other end of the car. She reached the door just as the guard closed the gate. A little verbal persiflage ensued.

"Let me out! Let me out!" she commanded. But the guard stood firm. "Why didn't you get out the other door?" he said. "I will go out the same way I came in," she said, with great dignity. And down she rode to the next station, all on account of her pet superstition.—New York Sun.

The Courage of Hawks.

One female bird in her first season took 32 rabbits, 3 hares and 2 magpies, and in the next year 210 rabbits, 2 leverets, 11 partridges, 4 magpies and 2 squirrels. A goshawk will go on catching rabbit after rabbit, or take five or six birds in succession, for they do not tire like falcons. Nothing comes amiss to them. Hares, landrails, pheasants, rabbits, waterfowls, ducks, rats, stoats, weasels, mice, even a hedgehog is not despised.

Their headlong courage is simply astonishing. They will charge into a quickset hedge till they have to be cut out, or dive among rocks and bowlders. Captain Bland of Draycott, near Stoke-on-Trent, had a goshawk which stuck to a hare till it twice rolled head over heels. Then the hawk flew after it again and was shaken off, while the hare escaped into a flock of sheep. The same bird, pursuing a rabbit, flew right down a large hole in the side of a quarry and dragged the rabbit out of it. The "smash" with which a big hen goshawk goes into an evergreen tree after a pigeon sounds as if a football had been violently kicked into the branches.—London Spectator.

How Helena Won.

"Let me tell you something funny about the capital of Montana," chats Victor Smith. "In 1892 the competition rested between Helena, Anaconda, Butte City, Bozeman, Great Falls, Deer Lodge and Boulder, without a decision. In 1894 it was reduced to a match between Helena and Anaconda. W. A. Clark was for Helena. Marcus Daly was for Anaconda. Anaconda seemed to have the best of it, when the genius of Clark prevailed. He made no attempt at bribery. He just said to every voter he could lay hands on:

"'If you want a dead cinch, I'll give it to you. Go and bet $5,000 at even money or any odds you please that Helena will be the capital. If you lose, I'll make good the $5,000. If you win, you return my $5,000 and keep the winnings.'

"Needless to say, Helena was chosen. And the arrangement did not cost Clark a cent."—Kansas City Journal.

A Double Kick.

The late R. D. Blackmore could never endure to have advertisements printed on his books, and when a cheap edition of "Lorna Doone" appeared with a flamboyant assertion on the back cover that "Blank's cocoa is the best" he sent a peppery letter to the publisher and ended with the quaint anticlimax, 'And, besides, I have had to drink chocolate for some time, and I know Blank's cocoa is the worst."

Labor Saving.

"You say he went to the legislature through your influence?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum.

"Did he introduce any bills?"

"No. He never could have handled all that money in bills. I gave him a book of signed checks."—Washington Star.

The man who can fall down on a slippery sidewalk and get up without looking around to see whether anybody has seen him can justly pride himself on his savior faire and self control.—Somerville Journal.

Will Visit Gettysburg.

Messrs. T. T. Brooks, William Love and William Swaim, three gallant Confederate veterans, are preparing to visit the battlefield of Gettysburg, Pa., where on July 1st, 2d and 3d, 1863, they took part in the bloody battle which was the turning point of the Civil war. They expect to leave Greensboro the first of next week, and will also visit Washington and Baltimore. Their trip can but be one of great interest.

The Greersboro Patriot this week says the scarcity of apples in some sections of the county where no frost occurred to damage the crop is not easily accounted for. The only theory advanced so far is that the pollen was all washed from the blooms by heavy rains and no fruit developed. There will be no great shortage in the crop, taken as a whole throughout the county, if no further damage follows.

THE SERGEANT'S GOLD.

It Never Reached the "Ould Folks at Home."

Surgeon General Sternberg told a good story once of an experience he had in the civil war. He said that when he was going into the battle of Bull Run the Irish sergeant major of his regiment came to him with a big bag of gold coin weighing three or four pounds and said:

"Doctor, I know that I'm to be kilt entirely, an I want you to take care of this money an see that it gets to the ould folks at home."

There was no time to remonstrate or to make any other arrangement, and, dropping the bag into the surgeon's lap, the Irishman hurried away to his place at the head of the column. All through two bloody days Dr. Sternberg carried that bag of gold with his surgical instruments, and it was a burden and an embarrassment to him. He tried to get rid of it, but couldn't find any one willing to accept or even to share the responsibility, and he couldn't throw it away for the sake of the "ould folks at home."

Toward the close of the second day the surgeon was taken prisoner. He lost his surgical instruments and his medicine case, but clung to the gold, and, making a belt of his necktie and handkerchief, tied it around his waist next to his skin to prevent its confiscation by his captors. During the long, hot and weary march that followed the goldpieces chafed his flesh, and his waist became so sore and blistered as to cause him intense suffering, but he was bound that the "ould folks at home" should have the benefit of that money and by the exercise of great caution and patience managed to keep it until he was exchanged with other prisoners and got back to Washington. There he found his regiment in camp, and one of the first men to welcome him was the Irish sergeant major, who was so delighted to learn that the doctor had saved his money that he got drunk and gambled it all away the first night.—Chicago Record.

IN RIP VAN WINKLE'S LAND.

The Portuguese Colonies In Africa In a Backward State.

The Portuguese colonies in Africa are the Rip Van Winkle's land of reality. After three centuries of white dominion they remain pretty much in the condition in which Da Gama and his bold successors left them.

Here is a picture of what trade means in the favored region of Cabinda bay, where there is a single white trader who occupies a house of three rooms, with a "shop" 20 feet by 8 attached. The place is stocked with puncheons of some vile stuff called "rum" which are exchanged for palm kernels.

Knots of natives from the interior villages with loads of kernels begin to present themselves at the shop by 6 a. m., and when the trader at last makes his appearance there is a noisy crowd of kernel sellers and thirsty hangers on.

The exchange of rum for kernels is quickly effected, and by 9 o'clock in the morning the entire population may be seen lying under the shelter of the cocoanut palms either stupidly drunk or noisily quarreling.

The mingled uproar and snoring lasts till about noon, when there is a sudden return to sobriety, and the crowd clears away to the village to collect the means for another carousal.

On a "good" day the trader at Cabinda bay gets rid of about 190 gallons of rum, and he avers that the scene described is repeated every day in the year.

Next to rum and "civilization" the greatest curses of West Africa are smallpox and the sleeping sickness. From this last no case of recovery has ever been known, and so contagious is it that in the native Christian community every communicant has a separate cup from which to partake of the sacramental wine.—London Leader.

Prompt Answer.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 26.
I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.
Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues— despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhœa. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

IN A PITIABLE CONDITION.

A Deaf and Dumb Frenchman Unable to Understand a Word of English.

A deaf and dumb French sailor was in Greensboro yesterday afternoon on his way to Washington, where he hoped to secure assistance from the French minister to enable him to return to his native land. The poor fellow was in a most pitiable condition. In addition to being deaf and dumb, he could read and write only the French language, being unable to understand a word of English. By some means he found his way to the State Normal and Industrial College, where he was directed to Professor Joyner, who obtained from him his story.

It was learned that the Frenchman had been a member of the crew of a French vessel, and while in Savannah some time ago had been taken sick with menengitis. When he recovered his hearing and speech had left him, and he found himself among strangers in a strange land. His appeared to be a worthy case, and Professor Joyner and others at the Normal assisted him and directed him to the chief of police, where he was given further aid.

OLD TIMES, OLD FRIENDS, OLD LOVE.

There are no days like the good old days—
The days when we were youthful;
When humankind were pure of mind
And speech and deeds were truthful;
Before a love for sordid gold
Became man's ruling passion
And before each dame and maid became
Slaves to the tyrant fashion.

There are no girls like the good old girls—
Against the world I'd stake 'em—
As buxom and smart and clean of heart
As the Lord knew how to make 'em.
They were rich in spirit and common sense,
A piety all supportin;
They could bake and brew and had taught school, too,
And they made the likeliest courtin.

There are no boys like the good old boys
When we were boys together,
When the grass was sweet to the brown bare feet
That dimpled the laughing heather,
When the pewee sung to the summer dawn
Of the bee in the billowy clover,
Or down by the mill the whippoorwill
Echoed his night song over.

There is no love like the good old love—
The love that mother gave us.
We are old, old men, yet we pine again
For that precious grace—God save us.
So we dream and dream of the good old times,
And our hearts grow tenderer, fonder,
As those dear old dreams bring soothing gleams
Of heaven away off yonder.

—Eugene Field.

Cheap Cats.

General Sir Herbert Chermside was formerly a consul in Asia Minor. Once, in a weak moment, he sent a couple of beautiful Angora cats as a present to a lady in Constantinople. The lady was so pleased that she asked him to send some more. Sir Herbert gave his native servant some money and told him to go and buy two or three. Then came a demand for more cats from the consul's friends, and he gave his servant more money with which to buy cats.

This went on for two or three months, and the native servant waxed exceeding fat. One morning, however, the general, on coming out of the consulate, was surrounded by a host of infuriated veiled women, who besought Mohammed to curse him because he had stolen all their cats. It appears that the native servant had pocketed the money for himself and gone round with a sack and confiscated every cat in the place.

The Old Shinplasters.

Probably the greatest profit ever enjoyed by the government as a result of the destruction of money was in connection with the fractional currency or shinplasters issued during the civil war.

The total amount issued was $368,724,079, of which $6,880,558 has never been presented for redemption.

A large amount has been preserved as curios by collectors, and occasionally even now it is offered for redemption.—Indianapolis News.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of siatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

THE CITY OF HONGKONG.

It Is One of the Most Unhealthy Spots on the Globe.

In spite of all the precautions that have been taken, the perfect sanitation of the city, the fine natural drainage, the cleanliness of the streets, Hongkong is one of the most unhealthful spots on the globe. With its tropical heat the lofty peaks that half encircle it catch the clouds that the rapid evaporation create, and they are squeezed like a sponge, the floods of rain pouring down in streaming torrents.

The houses lack light, although they are built as well as they could be, with perforated ceilings, through which the air circulates, admitted from openings pierced by the outer walls. The floors are brilliantly waxed, carpets, owing to the great dampness, being dispensed with. The great difficulty is to secure light and proper ventilation. The streets are very narrow, and the towering walls of buildings opposite obstruct the light in front, while at the rear the courts of terraces crowded with foliage cast a heavy shade from that direction. In the gardens, while plants flourish luxuriantly, there is no grass, but the ground is green with moss, just as it grows in damp, shady places in cooler climates. The heat and the great humidity are destructive to health, and it is doubtful if there is a single normal liver in the whole of Hongkong.

English women who come out with complexions of cream and roses grow thin and sallow. The Hongkong complexion is a startling grayish green, and the old resident has with this pallor dark bluish circles under the eyes. The least exertion includes exhausting perspiration, and people become gaunt and thin.—Boston Transcript.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. "DANGER IN THE EARTH AND AIR; DANGER EVERYWHERE."

A Wise and Venerable Doctor Talks about Advanced Science.

In a leading hotel, in a great city, a famous and aged physician was conversing. Listening to his wise and sententious discourse, were a group of well dressed men, evidently lawyers, business men and commercial travelers.

My firm belief, is "that medical science is certain yet to show that all diseases without exception are caused by invisible germs which are living organisms. Here is the germ of that terrible disease diphtheria. Here is the bacillus of typhoid fever; and here is the still more dreadful bacillus of tubercle which causes that most destructive of all diseases, consumption. This of that very common and supposed incurable disease, catarrh."

"I wish, Doctor," said the traveling man, "that you would tell us about catarrh. I have had it for years, and I am thoroughly discouraged."

The Doctor answered. "Catarrh, like diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever, and a host of other diseases, is the result of a microbe invading the blood and attacking specially the mucous membrane. This foul and most disgusting disease is especially prevalent in the United States and it is rare to meet one who is not, or has not been troubled more or less with it. How often is he or she obliged to remain at home from pleasant entertainments, deprive themselves of many intellectual treats, from fear of the disagreeable odor arising from catarrhal affections. In its worst phase, the patient becomes loathsome both to himself and his friends.

"I believe," continued this great physician, "that the true way to heal catarrh is to medicate the blood. This can be done only by powerful alteratives which act as blood purifiers."

Betsy A. Marett, of Manistee, Manistee Co., Mich., writes:

Dear Sirs:—For ten years I was a sufferer from general debility and chronic catarrh. My face was pale as death. I was weak and short of breath. I could hardly walk, I was so dizzy and had a ringing in my head all the time. My hands and feet were always cold. My appetite was very poor. On getting up in the morning, my head swam so I was often obliged to lie down again. I had awful pains in the small of my back. I had a continual feeling of tiredness. My muscular power was almost entirely gone, and I couldn't go half a dozen steps without stopping to rest, and often that much exercise caused me to have a pain in my side. It seemed as though the blood had left my veins. The doctors said my blood had all turned to water. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I tried the best physicians in the state, but failed to get any relief. My husband got me a bottle of Johnston's Sarsaparilla. I took it, and then I bought another. When these had been used, I was somewhat improved in health. I continued its use, and felt I was growing stronger; my sleep was refreshing, and it seemed as if I could feel new blood moving through my veins. I kept on taking it, and now consider myself a well and rugged woman. I work all the time, and am happy. I am positive that the Sarsaparilla saved my life. The sick headaches I have had since childhood, have disappeared, and my catarrh has almost entirely left me. I cannot be too thankful for what Johnston's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I recommend all women who have sick headaches to use your Sarsaparilla.

THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina, unsettled weather with occasional showers, indicated tonight and Friday.

Highest temperature at Greensboro for twenty four hours, ending 8 a. m., 91; lowest 59.

Firemen's lawn party on the Eckle lawn tonight.

Be sure and attend the lawn party on the Eckle lawn tonight.

Cotton closings: May 45, July 30, August 8.98, December and January 7.81.

Delicious cream, frozen strawberries and cake at the firemen's lawn party tonight.

Mr. J. E. Cartland is grateful to all who assisted in removing his goods last night.

Eckle's lawn has been mowed and otherwise put in good condition for the firemen's lawn party tonight.

The noon trains were late today. No. 36, northbound, arrived at 12:40 and was delayed about twenty minutes by a broken air pump.

The Moore Optical and Talking Machine Company will lend the firemen a Graphophone Grand talking machine for use at the lawn party tonight.

The J. Van Lindley Nursery Company has given the firemen a beautiful lot of flowers to be presented to the most popular young lady at the lawn party tonight.

The members of Gate City Lodge No. 136, Knights of the Mystic Chain, are requested to meet in the K. of P. hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock to transact important business.

Very little tobacco is being sold in the Greensboro market these days. A good rain would put the weed in splendid order and result in heavy breaks. One more season will about end the business until the new crop comes in.

Now is the time for moonlight picnics, lawn parties, tete champetres, etc. Next Wednesday the Altar Guild of St. Barnabas church will give one of its deservedly popular entertainments and doubtless score another social and financial success. For further particulars read the evening papers.

A Girl Overcome by Snakes.

Bridgeville, Del., Special to the Philadelphia Record.

Miss Martha Hatfield, living near Bunning's station, is prostrated as the result of a thrilling encounter with snakes while walking across a field overgrown with wild sage. She felt something twining about her ankle. It proved to be a black snake, which she shook off, but almost instantly stepped into a nest of other snakes. They crawled all over her body, but she seized a club and tried to beat them off.

To the young woman's horror, however, she found that the reptiles had encircled her so completely that she could hardly walk and, crying for help, she fell fainting in the field. A farm laborer went to her rescue and drove the snakes away.

Death in the Country.

Mr. G. W. Plunkett, a well-known citizen, died yesterday afternoon at his home six miles southeast of Greensboro. He was 65 or 70 years old and had been in feeble health for quite a while. He was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church.

The funeral was held at Moriah church this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

KNOWS WHAT HE WANTS.

And Does Not Hesitate to Advertise to Secure it--A Greensboro Man Wants Ten Thousand Dollars.

In the New York Herald of Sunday, the 13th, appeared the following unique advertisement under the head of "Business Personals:"

A young man of business experience, with wife and children (Protestant Christians), three girls, age, 6, 10, 15, boy 12, cultured, affectionate, interesting people, descendants of old English and Scotch families, native Americans, needs at once ($10,000) ten thousand dollars cash: $4,000 to pay for a home; $6,000 to invest in business; the home can be bought at once, is beautifully located and is in the best social and religious surroundings, climate delightfully pleasant year round; desires some kind lady or person, young or old, as genuine friend, to furnish him this amount of funds immediately and to become a member of his family for life, to share their interest and welfare and have their truest and best care, sympathy and love. Write at once fully to —— —— —— —— street, Greensboro, N. C.

It is evident that the gentleman knows what he wants, and knowing, doesn't hesitate to ask for it. He is apparently in dead earnest, and probably goes on the theory of "if you don't see what you want, ask for it."

The method pursued is, to say the least, unique; but greater things have been accomplished by advertising, and who knows but that this modest advertisement in the Herald may bring the gentleman the ten thousand, with a friend for life?

The Telegram hopes he will succeed, for so determined a man deserves a home and a successful business future.

Bunsen and His Veal Cutlets.

Absentmindedness was a marked trait in Bunsen's character, and many amusing anecdotes are told of the difficulties it brought him. The statement that he remained a bachelor because he forgot his wedding day is of course apocryphal, as is the other about his putting on a suit of garments on the top of others that he had forgotten to take off, but the following came under my personal observation:

Bunsen used to dine every day at a little table reserved for him in a restaurant connected with the hotel in which I lived. One spring he fell into the habit of ordering veal cutlets and asparagus as the chief item for his meal, and without reflection or feeling that a change of diet would be agreeable he continued to order "kalbs cotelette and spargelk daily for several weeks until one day the kellner gravely informed him that asparagus was no longer in season and could not be supplied.

Bunsen seemed to be immensely taken aback and to realize for the first time that he had been dining on one dish for a long period. He soon recovered himself, however, and asked the waiter for the bill of fare, from which, after careful examination, he ordered mutton chops and peas, and this was his daily diet up to the time I changed my hotel.—Science.

Just the Man.

Mrs. Belgrave (on the Bermuda boat)—Are you one of the stewards?

Bill Roling—No, marm. I'm cap'n of th' top.

You hear it in the air: "Vick's Little Liver Pills keep my family well."
